HIGHLIGHTS OF TRAINER'S PROFILE

Dr. William (Bill) Dant has over 30 years' experience in the custom design, delivery and evaluation of education and leadership training programs and projects, working worldwide with public and private sector clients.

Dant spent ten years in the U.S. Federal service, working in international program management positions for the U.S. Department of State and the Peace Corps. His work over several decades in the private sector has included educational leadership and management positions with three key international education and training organizations in the U.S. He now is principal of his own international education consulting firm, WPD Global Solutions, LLC.

Bill's global work includes long-term assignments in West Africa, North Africa and Europe, and short-term field work in several countries in the Middle East (Yemen, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Lebanon and Tunisia) as well as in Latin America (Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Guyana), Eurasia (Russia, Ukraine, Georgia, Bulgaria) and East and Southeast Asia (China, Japan, Malaysia, Indonesia, Vietnam, Burma and Laos).

Dant holds a Ph.D. in International Education Policy & Leadership from the University of Maryland, U.S.A.; a Masters from the S.I.T. Graduate Institute in Vermont, U.S.A., and a bachelor's degree from Georgetown University, Washington, DC. He also studied at the University of Strasbourg, France as an undergraduate, and at the University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa, during his doctoral studies.
